

Drawing the Human Face with Swathi Madike

Class Description

These drawing classes offer a structured yet flexible approach to learning the art of portraiture, combining the study of master drawings with direct observation working with a live model.

Artists will gain insight into the structure of the head, the anatomy of the face, and the principles of proportion and likeness. Each class will include demonstrations and group discussion.

This class is suitable for beginners and doesn't require any previous experience, offering a supportive and encouraging space to expand your artistic abilities with guidance from Swathi.
